Doris enjoyed spending time with her family and especially looked forward to hosting Thanksgiving and Christmas get-togethers. Whether they were sharing a family meal at her favorite restaurant, PGN in Ocean City, MD, or just hanging out around the dinner table at home, she was happiest in the company of her loved ones. Doris was a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, great grandmother and great great grandmother who will be very dearly missed.

“ So very sorry for the passing of your mom. I didn’t realize that multiple friends were related to Doris. To Frank and Sharon and your family, Joe and I send our sympathies. To Diane and Louise, so very sorry for your loss. I still remember helping Frank, Sr and Doris sell their home in New Castle. I remember how Doris called me the morning of 9/11 telling me we were attacked. She thought the Communist attacked us. She was a true delight. Our prayers and thoughts are with you all during this sad time.
